

A person who struggles with uncontrolled anger is living a life full of sin.

We should be angry every time we see sin destroying what God has ordained as true and right.

Angry people are repeatedly in trouble. At the core is an unteachable spirit.

Overcoming Anger:

- The wise person is able to ask, “Is the goal that was blocked a selfish or a godly goal?”
- You must surrender to God whatever right you think you have to be in control and submit your life to His care.

Overcoming Anger:

- Selfish anger can be defeated as we consider the magnitude of the grace that we have received through the cross of Jesus Christ.
